ACESO Independent Medical Exams (IMEs)

Why You Need IMEs

When it comes to sensitive legal issues involving injuries and current medical conditions or accessing your staff to ensure safety and efficiency, it's important to acquire an objective medical opinion.

An Independent Medical Exam (IME) is a medical examination performed by a non-treating healthcare practitioner, and is typically requested to assess the extent of an examinee's injury, disability, need for accommodations or restrictions, and/or ability to work.

Whether you require a neurological consultation, psychiatric assessment, or addiction services, ACESO Medical offers a wide variety of IMEs based on your unique needs

WHO CAN USE IMEs?

IMEs may be requested by private individuals, but examinations are primarily employed on behalf of an examinee by third parties such as insurance companies, corporations, businesses, or legal professionals.

Following the examinee's evaluation, which often involves validity testing procedures and accessing provided and collateral information, our specialists establish comprehensive medical reports according to their objective findings.

As independent medical professionals, our assessments remain completely unbiased, providing straightforward reports to combat complicated and often contradictory medical cases.

HOW BENEFICIAL ARE IMEs?

IMEs are valuable tools when assessing short and long-term disability considerations, employee work restrictions, and safe reintegration to work.

Evaluations also assist in legal liability cases, especially when injuries occur, and help businesses assess optimal safety and efficiency conditions.

In addition to disability considerations, liability issues, and safety concerns, IMEs demonstrate a high return on investment (ROI).

ACESO's medical evaluations were designed to increase patient turnover by providing short wait times, quick processing periods, and often minimal travel.

Such convenience and ease of services produce several ROIs including increased employee productivity, reduction of disability payouts and premiums, reduced employee turnover, increased workplace morale, and/or fair settlements for injury victims. The benefits of IMEs speak for themselves

IMEs are performed by experienced medical professionals who are certified specialists in their fields.

ACESO Psychiatry & Addiction Services

Canada-Wide Service

Our addiction trained and certified specialists have extensive experience in assessing for the presence of substance use disorders, provide treatment recommendations, prognosis, and fitness for duty evaluations.

We utilize multiple sources of information, which often include objective validity testing and a thorough review of the provided and collateral information to ensure our reports are as comprehensive as possible.

With the advancement of technology and the convenience of online assessments, virtual IMEs have become our specialty, so we are proud to provide online psychiatry and addiction services in every province across the country including Saskatchewan.

Further, ACESO Medical works with a network of collection sites across Canada to ensure that drug and alcohol testing is available and can be conducted as part of the assessment on a case-by-case basis.

ACESO TeleMedicine

TeleMedicine Service

Telemedicine involves the distribution of medical services and information through telecommunication technologies, allowing patients to access medical services from the comfort of their own homes.

In our efforts to break down accessibility barriers ensuring patients receive necessary medical care and assessments, ACESO Medical's comprehensive network provides examinees with assessments from leading medical specialists across the country.

CONVENIENCE THROUGH INNOVATION

The advent of telemedicine has allowed ACESO Medical to improve upon traditional approaches to medical services, streamlining the IME process.

This convenience and efficiency of telemedicine translate to increased turnover by providing short wait times, eliminating lengthy phone calls and emails, and completely removing the need for travel.

In return, our clients receive reduced costs associated with processing time and travel, while still receiving comprehensive evaluations from leading medical professionals.

DATA, SECURITY & PRIVACY

Security and privacy are of paramount importance to ACESO Medical, so our network of clinics and examination sites are completely secure due to our advanced encryption technologies.

We treat all privacy concerns with the utmost seriousness and are passionately dedicated to providing the highest level of confidentiality to our patients and clients.

To ensure privacy our systems have:

- 256 bit FIPS 140-2 AES for all traffic;
- Proprietary encryption keys;
- End-to-end encryption with no middlemen;
- Secure remote telemed units;
- HIPAA compliant systems that meet PIPA requirements.

Advanced New Service

Every IME provides valuable company data, creating a much larger overview of your business that is often overlooked.

When trends are identified they can also be exploited to reduce lost time claims, adjust resource allocation, decrease wait times, and generally improve your company's efficiency and profitability.

Unfortunately, compiling large amounts of data in a simple and concise format is a difficult and labor-intensive task.

To combat these data challenges, ACESO Analytics developed an advanced new service that assesses data into several distinct categories, providing you with concise, easily interpretable data that is both actionable and measurable.

WITH THIS EXCLUSIVE SERVICE YOU CAN ACCESS:

- | | |
|----------------------------|--|
| Aggregate Data | Provides instant figures regarding the amount and type of IMEs conducted. |
| Density Maps | Determines the frequency of IMEs by geographical location. Our filter function modifies the results according to the number or types of IMEs conducted, allowing you to identify locations that may require additional training and/or support. |
| Histograms | Provides a chronological, trend-based review of your assessments to help you manage the future. These graphical assessment types and trends can be a valuable tool to improve existing policies and procedures, eventually reducing costs associated with system breakdowns. |
| Custom Infographics | Our team can customize a specific operational metric tailored to your unique needs |
